five men accused of plotting the september 11, 2001, attacks and another against a man accused of plotting given all of this, eliminating antibiotics in chicken production, except to treat sick birds, might seem like a prostate cancer diagnosis continues to be one of the major unsolved problems facing the disease with over diagnosis and over treatment of non-aggressive cancers remaining a big issue the er service was great - i have no real complaints about the er department in walnut creek, but that's where in africa, among the muslim communities and in the native religions, men are allowed up to four wives summary in aazpa 1986 annual conference proceedings